

TAB D - 5 - 2

WINTER STORM TRAVEL WARNING (Level 2)

During times of winter storm events, when normal travel may be disrupted or otherwise adversely affected, and to provide for the safety of the general public, the Campbell County Office of Emergency Management, upon consultation and concurrence with the Director (or designee) of the Campbell County Transportation Department, Chief (or designee) of the Campbell County Police Department and the County Judge/Executive's Office, may issue a Winter Travel Warning.

This warning will be issued to media outlets listed in Appendix E-2 of Annex E, of the Campbell County Emergency Operations Plan. The advisory will adhere to the script below.

Travel Warning

The Campbell County Office of Emergency Management, with the concurrence of the Campbell County Transportation Department, Campbell County Police Department and the County Judge/Executive's Office has issued a travel warning for Campbell County, Kentucky. This travel warning is intended to notify Campbell County residents that roadways are extremely hazardous with blowing and drifting snow or ice. Only motorists whose travel is absolutely necessary should be on the roadways. Residents are urged to contact their employer to see if they should report to work. County officials are requesting that travel in Campbell County be limited to essential travel or emergency vehicles only.

Essential travel is defined as that travel necessitated for life sustaining means, including but not limited to; travel for medical purposes, travel for obtainment of food or water, travel for employment purposes, or travel for obtainment of heating fuel or heating sources. This travel warning is not mandatory nor is it an order declaring non-essential traffic illegal.

This travel warning will be effective until further notice (or a specific time established by officials at the time of the issuance of the travel advisory).

(Additional related travel information may also be disseminated to the public in the body of the travel advisory.)

This travel warning will be rescinded by the Office of Emergency Management when, upon concurrence with the Transportation Department, road conditions are no longer in a dangerous or hazardous condition. Repeal of the travel warning will be issued to the media outlets listed in Appendix E-2 of Annex E, of the Campbell County Emergency Operations Plan.

